Consultation on the provision and delivery of Universal Children's Services and de-designation of Children Centres in Northamptonshire 2018

Families with young children are being invited to give their views on universal children's centre services as part of a 12 week consultation. NCC currently provides universal children's centre services for children under five through its libraries. Following the decision to decommission 21 libraries in the county, this consultation is asking parents for their views on the locations and range of services to identify the greatest areas of need.
